SABC TAKES NOTE OF ALLEGATIONS AGAINST ON-AIR TALENT

Johannesburg – Thursday, 05 September 2019 - The South African Broadcasting Corporation (SABC) has taken note of the allegations on social media platforms against some of its on-air talent who have been accused of allegedly perpetrating sexual violence against women.

The SABC recognizes the prevalence of sexual and gender based violence against women and children in our society and the Corporation finds such acts unacceptable.

The SABC strongly condemns such offensive behavior and appeals to all affected individuals to approach the legal authorities and report their matter to enable the authorities to carry out investigations.

The SABC commits itself to decisively deal with anyone providing services to the SABC who has been found guilty by the legal authorities of sexual and gender based violence.
