SABC TAKES NOTE OF A WEBSITE ADVERTISING NON-EXISTENT SABC LEARNERSHIP FOR 2021

Johannesburg – Thursday, 17 December 2020 - The South African Broadcasting Corporation (SABC) has noted a post circulating on social media platforms, inviting people to apply for the Film and Television learnership programme. The link contained in the post, directs the public to opportunists4youth.co.za, a website which has published misleading information regarding the SABC's learnership programme for the year 2021.

The public is encouraged to be increasingly vigilant concerning misinformation and bogus posts on social media. It is important to note that the SABC always shares its learnership and internship programme opportunities on its website, under the corporate information careers tab. The Corporation currently has no learnership programme running, nor has it advertised for applications to such a programme.

The SABC will duly inform the public, through its platforms, when it resumes its learnership and internship programmes.
